- Institut für Qualitätsentwicklung im Land Bremen \(IQHB\)

Basic information

If you want to conduct a survey or inquiry in schools, you need to clarify what your obligations are beforehand.

Depending on the category of the survey, you may need permission, you may need to obtain the consent of the data subjects, or you may only need to inform the agencies involved.

The following categories of investigations can be distinguished:

- Category 1: Investigations in which personal data of school staff are processed (for example, information about the school management or teachers). In this case, there is an obligation to notify the IQHB.
- Category 2: Investigations in which personal data about students, school applicants and their legal guardians are processed. There is an approval requirement for this. The approval is granted by the IQHB.
- Category 3: Investigations at schools in the context of a master's thesis or vocational training. There is an approval requirement for this. Approval is granted by the school management.
- Category 4: Investigations carried out by schools as part of their mandate for internal school evaluation in accordance with § 14 BremSchulDSG. There is an obligation to notify the IQHB in this case.

- Category 5: Classroom observations without questioning students. This requires the approval of the school's management.

You can find out what you have to do in detail under "Procedure".
