Basic information

"The Ecology Station has been carrying out environmental education work in Bremen-Schönebeck for more than 40 years and intends to contribute to the understanding of the ecological prerequisites of a viable environment.

The outdoor area, located on the valley slope of the Schönebecker Aue, offers young and old visitors the opportunity to get to know a wealth of biotopes on 20 hectares, e.g. natural forest, wet meadows, orchard meadow, stream, ponds as well as an insect-friendly garden and thereby experience biological diversity and understand its importance."
